

Contents

Preface	ix
Acknowledgments	xxiii
Part I: The First Stage: Acknowledging the Problem	1
Chapter 1 Feminism and the Halakhic Tradition	3
Chapter 2 Sources of Discontent and the Conservative Response	25
Part II: The Second Stage: Working Within the System	47
Chapter 3 Exploring Halakhic Malleability and Its Limits	49
Chapter 4 The Meta-Halakhic Solutions of Modern Orthodoxy	60
Chapter 5 Does Positivism Work?	71
Part III: The Third Stage: Revamping the System	101
Chapter 6 Sociological and Historical Revisionism	103
Chapter 7 Evaluating Revisionism	125
Chapter 8 Halakhic Proactivism	145
Part IV: Beyond the Third Stage: Expanding the Palace of Torah	163
Chapter 9 Halakhah Contextualized: Nonfoundationalism and the Role of Interpretive Traditions	165
Chapter 10 The Word of God Contextualized: Successive Hearings and the Decree of History	184

Chapter 11 Some Theological Remarks for the More Philosophically Inclined	213
Part V: Epilogue	225
Chapter 12 Visions for the Future	227
Epilogue to the Second Edition	250
Notes	277
Index	353